TO HIS ROYAL HIGHNESS
THE PRINCE OF WALLE

S

IR

I esteem it a singular happiness, to be the first, who presents to your

ā ij

ROYAL HIGHNESS, these first principles of learning, virtue and Christian doctrine. That natural vivacity, these not faint glimmerings, but lively flashes, of that rising light, and dawning day of reason, far more advanced in your ROYAL HIGHNESS, then is ordinary in those of your age, with that firmness of memory, able already to repeat exactly long prayers in latin, are certainly fore-runners of a great wit, and a sound judgement. To Which if piety and solid vertue be joined, as we have all reason to hope they will, both by the inclinations you shew already, and the judicious care your Worthy Lady Governesse takes of your education, we cannot but be comforted with the hopes of having one day in your R. H^{ss}s person as glorious a Prince as ever Great Britain saw. Hasten then most Gracious Prince, and even surpass as you have done hitherto our expectation. Exhibit to the world by those charming draughts of your most sweet and comely face, by those handsom features of body, but much more by the noble qualitys of your mind, exhibit, I say, a perfect resemblance of your Royal progenitors. But above all hasten to learn their rare and unparalleled virtues, and to grow not only in grace and favour before men, according to the expression of holy scripture, but also in the sight of God. Make hast to learn these first principles of Christian doctrine and cheif mysterys of Faith, that you may the better come to know, love and serve your sovereign lord, to whom alone we ow you, and to whom you ow all. Proceed then most hopefull Prince as you begin, and lift up daily to God those innocent hands of yours: the more innocent they are the more victorious they will be. Seek first the Kingdom of heaven, and crowns, scepters, riches, prosperity and even a sudden and glorious restoration of their sacred Majestys, followed by a long and happy reign, hæc omnia, all these, according to Christs promise, and much more, adjicientur, shal be given from above. And to your self after a long happy and prosperous reign a numerous posterity to cary down your name vertues and glory to future ages. These are the most hearty wishes of him, who is with a most profound respect,

Your R. H^{ss}s

most humble most obedient and most dutifull servant and Beadsman C. A. S. J.

A N
ABRIDGEMENT OF THE CHEIF MYSTERY OF FAITH.

Question. Who created you and brought you in to the world?

Answer. God.

Q. For what end did he create you?

A. For to Know, loue, and serue him in this life, and to glorify him eternally in the life to come.

2
Q. What is God?

A. A Spirit, omnipotent, most perfect, eternall, infinite, creator, of heaven and earth, and soveraign lord of all things.

Q. Where is God?

A. In heaven, on earth, and in all places.

Q. How many persons is there in God?

A. Three.

Q. Who are these three persons?

A. The father, son, and holy Ghost: and these three persons we call the Blisset Trinity.

Q. The father is he God?

A. Yes.

Q. The son is he God?

A. Yes.

Q. The holy Ghost is he God?

A. Yes.

Q. Are these then three Gods?

A. No. for altho they be three distinct persons yet these three persons are but one God because they have but one deity or godhead.

Q. Which of the three persons is the greatest, the eldest, and the most powerfull?

A. They are all three, as great, as old, and as powerfull one as another.

Q. Which of the three persons by taking and assuming human nature did become man?

A. The second person, who is god the son.

Q. Did the father and the holy Ghost also become man?

A ij

A. No.

Q. What is that, to become man?

A. It is to take a soul and a body as we have.

Q. Where did the son of God take this soul and this body?

A. In the sacred womb of the most glorious Virgin Mary by the operation of the holy Ghost.

Q. How do you call the second person thus made man?

A. Christ Jesus who is both together god and man.

Q. Why do you call him Christ that is to say anointed?

A. Because he is anointed King of Kings and sovereign lord of all the world.

Q. Why is he called Iesus that is to say saviour?

A. Because he became man to redeem and save the world.

Q. Our saviour as man had he a father upon earth?

A. No. but as he was begotten in heaven as god of a father without a mother; so was he born on earth as man, of a mother without a father.

Q. Has he been always God?

A. Yes.

Q. Has he been always man?

A. No. but only since the time he was conceived in the womb of the Blissed Virgin.

Q. When was our saviour conceived in the Womb of our Blissed Lady?

A. The five and twinty day of march : which is called the feast of the Anonciation, because that day the Angel Gabriel did announce to the Blisfed Virgin, the happy news of the incarnation of Christ, and of her being chosen mother of God.

Q. When was he born and where?

A. On Christmas night in the stable of Bethleem.

Q. When was the name of Iesus given him?

A. On the day of his circumcision eight days after his birth; because that day he began to shed his blood for our salvation.

Q. How long did our saviour live upon earth?

A. Three and thirty years and some months.

Q. On what day died he?

7
A. On good friday.

Q. How did he die?

A. A most cruel death, which he suffered most willingly for the love of man, being after many pains and torments barbarously nailed by the Jews upon a cross.

Q. Where went he after his death?

A. His soul went to limbo to free the holy fathers who were there and his body was laid in the sepulcher.

Q. What became then his divinity?

A. It never was separated nether from his soul nor from his body.

Q. What day did he rise again from the dead?

A. On easter day, the third day after his death.

8
Q. Will all other men Likewise rise again?

A. Yes. all both good and bad will rise again in their own bodys, to appeare before the tribunal of God and receive that dreadful sentence to be pronounced at the last day of judgement.

Q. What will become of men after the last judgement?

A. The just will go to heaven in body and soul to reign there, and be eternally happy with Christ Jesus and the wicked will descend in to hell for to burne there in body and soul and be tormented for a whole eternity.

Q. Is there not a third place where some souls go after their death?

A. Yes

Ans. Yes, there is Purgatory where these souls go who die in the grace of god, but have not fully satisfied to his justice for the pains due to their sins.

Q. Why do you believe these mysteries?

A. Because God has revealed them.

Q. To whom has he revealed them?

A. To his Church by whom they are proposed to us to be believed.

Q. What is the Church?

A. The Church is the congregation of the faithfull who make profession of one and the same faith in Christ participating in the same sacraments, under the obedience of lawfull Pastours, who are duely subordinated to the Pope, as visible head of the Church, to whom Christ Iesus has given supreme power and jurisdiction in the person of saint Peter, who's successor he is.

Q. Can this Church erre?

A. No because she is governed by the holy Ghost.

Q. What is the communion of Saints?

A. It is the bond and union of charity and the participation of merites among the faithfull.

Q. On what day did our saviour mount in to heaven?

A. On Ascension day, forty days after his resurrection.

Q. On what day sent he down the holy Ghost on his Apostles?

A. On Pentecoste or whitsunday.

Q. Why did Christ Iesus come in to the world and accomplish all these mysterys?

A. For to deliver us from the bondage and slavery of sin and the devil, and to merite for us grace in this life, and glory in the life to come.

Q. Seing Christ Iesus did mount in to heaven, he is then no more upon earth?

A. Yes: but he is and that after a most particular maner in the Blissed sacrament of the alter.

Q. What is the Blissed sacrament of the alter?

A. It's a sacrament that contains the true and reall body of our Saviour Christ Iesus with his blood, his soul, and his divinity under the species or appearance of bread and win.

Q. What do you call species or appearance of bread and win?

A. We call to what appears to our senses, as the whiteness and roundness of the bread, the redness of the win, and the tast of them both, so that we do not see the body and blood of Christ, but only these accidents and species that cover them.

Q. With these visible species and accidents do's not also the bread and win remaine?

A. No. but the bread is changed in the body of our saviour and the win in his blood.

Q. By what vertue is this wonderfull changement wrought?

A. By the vertue of the most powerfull and sacred words of Christ Iesus, that the Preist pronounces at the consecration of the Mass.

Q. What is that you call the Mass.

A. It is the unbloody sacrifice of the body and blood of Christ, offered by the preist in the name of the Church, for to represente and perpetuate the bloody sacrifice of Iesus Christ to his father upon the cross.

Q. Is our Saviour in all the consecrated hosties?

A. Yes he is as well in the least as in the biggest.

Q. When the hostie is broken, is also the body of our saviour broken?

A. No. its only the accidents and exteriour species of bread that is broken.

Q. Is the body of our saviour in the hostie a living body?

A. Yes it is a living body: for our saviour haveing now a glorious and impassible body, it can be no more obnoxious to death.

Q. Is the blood of Christ also with his body?

A. Yes, and they can be no more separate one from an other so who ever receives the one receives likewise the other.

Q. What do we adore in the chalice after consecration at Mass.

A. The self-same precious blood of Christ Iesus that was spilt upon the cross.

Q. Is there but the blood alone of our saviour in the chalice?

A. No. Christ is whole and intire in the chalice: to wit his blood, his body, his soul and his divinity, and so is he also in the sacred hostie.

Q. Who receives our saviour in the sacrament receives he also the Father and the holy Ghost?

A. Yes; because where ever God the son is there is the father and the holy Ghost.

Q. Doeth our saviour leave heaven for to be present in the Blissed sacrament?

A. No he is both in heaven and on earth at the same time.

Q. How can so many great wonders be wrought?

A. By the omnipotency of God.

Q. How ^{who} instituted this divin sacrament?

A. Our saviour himself at his last supper with his Apostles on holy thursday the night before his passion.

Q. What preparation is requisite for to approache Worthily to this sacrament?

A. We ought to approache to it with a great respect, a lively faith, a profound humility, a true love of god, full of charity for our neighbour, and our soul pure

pure and neat from all kind of mortal sin.

Q. Who is conscious to himself to have committed a mortal sin what is he obliged to do before he approach to the sacrament?

A. He must of necessity make a good confession, otherwise he would commit a heinous sacrilege and make a communion like that of Judas.

Q. What must one do to make a good confession?

A. 1. You must examine your conscience.

2. You must have a true sorrow and regret for having offended God.

3. You must make a good purpose and a strong resolution never to returne again to your former sins, and to avoid the occasions.

4. Confesse sincerely and intirely all your sins to a Priest that is approved and has power to absolve.

5. You must resolve to fulfill punctually the penance that your confessor will impose upon you.

Q. How many sacraments is there?

A. There is seven, Baptisme, Confirmation, Eucharist, Penance, Extreme unction, holy Order, Matrimony.

Q. What is Baptisme?

A. It's a sacrament, that blots out all sins, both original and actual, makes us Christians, and imposes upon us the obligation to keep the commandments of God, and of the Church, and to live according to the maxims of the Gospel.

Q. What is Confirmation?

A. It's a sacrament by which we receive the holy Ghost, by whom we are enabled to confess courageously the faith and name of Iesus Christ.

Q. What is the Eucharist?

A. It is a sacrament containing the true body and blood of Christ, which is distributed, and given unto us as the true food and nourishment of our souls.

Q. What is Penance?

A. It's a sacrament by which we receive, being duly disposed, absolution and remission of all sins committed since Baptisme.

Q. What is Extream-Vnction?

A. It's a sacrament that strengthens a soul against the assaults of the devil, at the hour of death, remits what may be resting of sin to the sick person who receives it worthily, restores health of body, if expedient for his salvation, and gives grace to die well.

Q. What is holy Order?

A. It's a sacrament that constitutes ministers in the Church, and gives them power and grace to exercise their sacred functions.

Q. What is Matrimony?

A. It's a sacrament conferring grace to married persons to live holily, and to breed up their children in the fear of God.

Q. What are all Christians obliged to do to gain heaven?

A. They are obliged to Keep the commandments of God and the Church.

Q. How many are the commandements of God?

A. Ten.

The ten Commandments.

I

ONE God alone thou shalt adore:

Thy love he wholly claims.

II.

Swearing in vain thou shalt abhore,

By his or creatures names.

III.

To sanctify Gods holy day,
 Thou praise and thanks shalt give.

IV.

Due honour parents thou shalt pay,
 That so thou long mayst live.

V.

From blood, unspotted keep thy hands:
 Avoid revengfull thought.

VI.

Fly sins of lust, as God commands,
 Vile pleasures too dear bought.

VII.

They neighbours goods thou shalt not take,
 Nor keep what's not thy own.

VIII.

If thou forswear or lies doest make,

Thy God will on the frown:

IX.

Who covets e're his neighbours wife,

X.

Or doeth his goods desire:
Will justly by his wiked life,
Deserve eternal fire.

The Commandements of the Church.

To Invoke the help of the Holy Ghost.

Spirit Creator of mankind,
Visit every pious mind,
And let sweetly thy grace invade
Such breasts, O Lord, as thou hast made.

Thou art the comforter, whom all Gift of the highest God must call
The living fountain, fire and love,
Spiritual unction from above.

Gods sacred finger, which imparts
A sevenfold grace to faithfull harts.
Thou art the Fathers promise, whence
We language have and eloquence.

Inlighten Lord, our souls, and grant
That we thy love may never want.
Let not our vertue ever fail:
But strenghten what in flesh is frail.

Ad invocandum auxilium Spiritus Sancti.

Veni creator Spiritus ;
Mentes tuorum visita :
Imple superna gratia ,
Qua tu creasti pectora ,

Ad te clamamus exules filii Eve.

To thee we cry; and our sad moans
Sigh out into thy tender ears:
To thee our hearts send bitter groans
From this dolefull valley of tears.

Hear, glorious Advocate, O hear:
And towards Whretched us incline
The gracious aspect of those dear Compassionating eyes of thine.

Soft source of pity, mild, and sweet,
O Mary, ever virgin pure:
Behold us prostrate at thy feet
And by thy pow'rfull pray'rs procure,

That an unweary'd close pursuit
Of life, may bring us so to dy,
We may on Jesus thy blest fruit
Feast our glad eyes eternally.

AN EXAMEN OF CONSCIENCE
CONSISTING IN FIVE POINTS,

I. P O I N T.

To thank God for all the favours we have received of him in general and in particular for those we have received this very day.

WHat thanks shall I render you O Lord! for all the benefits, I have so liberally received at your hands. You have been mindfull of me from all eternity; and haveing drawn me out of nothing, you have most mercyfully redeemed me with your most precious blood. You conserve me at every moment, and dayly and hourly heap your graces and favours upon me. Alas! what am I able. To do to returne my due acknowledgments to you O my God? for so many benefits? comme all ye Angels, and blessed Spirits, join in with me, to prayse, and thank, for his manifold mercys our great God: who hath, not disdained, to cast his eyes upon a so pitifull and wretched creature.

II. POINT.

To beg of God grace and light to know and detest our sins.

Source of eternal light, O Holy Ghost, dissipate the darkness that hides from me the ugliness and malice of sin. Give me O Lord such a horror of it, that I may, if possible detest and abhor it, as much as you abhor it your self: and that I may apprehend nothing so much as to commit it hereafter.

III. POINT.

To call our soul to an account and examine in the sight of God all our thoughts, words, actions, omissions running over all the hours of the day and weighing particularly the sins we fall oftneft in and are most inclined to

Here a stop must be made that every one may examine his own conscience.

conscience this day hath been given us not to spend it idly but to employ all of it for gods glory and at least some. Part of it in prayer. were my first thoughts in the morning to God? did I mak my prayer? how did I behave the rest of the day towards God, my neighbour and myself in thoughts word, &c.

IV. POINT.

To beg of God humbly pardon for all the sins of your life and particularly for the faults committed this day.

Here I am O Lord! penetrated with all the most sincere sentiments of sorrow my faults can inspire me; here I come with a truly humbled and contrit heart to acknowledge and detest them at your feet. Is it thus I answer my manifold obligations to your infinite goodness? O my God and that after the excess of your love has been such as to make you shed your most precious blood for my sake my ingratitude covers my face with confusion, in the sight of thy Saints, and Angels: in whose presence I humbly beg pardon hoping for mercy at your hands with time and grace to do penance.

V. POINT.

To purpose Firmely to amend and not to fall in the same faults again but to governe our selves better with the assistance of Gods grace.

O How sincerely do I wish O my God, that I had never offended you but seeing I have been so unhappy as to incur your displeasure I shall shew by my behaviour and conduct hereafter, far different from what it hath been hither to, how sensible, I am of it, I heartely renounce at this very moment to what ever may be occasion to me of offending your infinit goodness. I shall walk with chearfulness in the ways of your commandements and nothing shall hold me, when it shall be question to serve you O my God: Give me strenght O sweet and amiable Saviour to put their my resolutions in execution; and change so my heart that it may prove as faithfull to you in times to come as it has been unfaithful in times bygon.
